hereunder, to be the area as a Kishtwar High Altitude National Park for purpose of protecting, propagating and developing wildlife therein and its environment.

Kishtwar High Altitude National Park

Kishtwar High Altitude National Park is named after the famous old town of Jammu province namely “Kishtwar”, The National Park is located on the northern side of the Kishtwar town.

Area, Boundaries and Location of the National Park

Geographical Location of the National Park :

- North : The ridge separating the watersheds of Kaintal and Kulhoyan Nallahs.
- South : The orographic left ridge of Kibar nalla from Brammah peak up to Kibar village.
- East : The ridge separating Kargil District from Kishtwar District.
- West : The permanent villages in the bank of Renai, Kiar, Nanth and Kibber Nallahs.

The geographical boundary is mere indicative of the National Park ; the actual area of the National Park in each of the streams is described below with the indication of the forest compartments falling in it.

Area description of the National Park :

The National Park would consist of part of the upper catchments of following streams :—

- Renai ;
- Kiar ;
- Nanth ; and
- Kibber Nalla.

In each of the aforesaid streams, the area of the National Park starts from the watershed ridge and ends near the first permanent village/hamlet in its downstream.

Forest Area falling in the National Park :

The National Park area is clearly defined in terms of the forest compartments as follows. The forest compartments such as 75, 76, 77, 78, 79 and 80 of Marwah Range and the forest compartments such as 24c, 24d, 24e, 24f, 24g, 24h, 24i, 24j, 24k, 24l, part of 29d beyond Hokrar, 29e, 29f, part of 30c beyond 1 kilometer from Kibber village, 30d and 30e of Dachhan Forest Range constitute the National Park. The uncompartmentalised upper catchments of Renai, Kiyar, Nanth and Kibber Nallah are also part of the National Park.

The area of the National Park spread on the 1 : 50,000 toposheets published by the Survey of India, numbered 43/0/9, 43/0/13, 43/0/14, 43/0/15, 52/C/1, 52/C/2, 52/C/3 and 52/C/6. The total horizontal area of the National Park measured to be 2191.50 Sq. Km.. in the GIS platform.

The National Park spreads between Latitudes 33° 27' N to 33° 59' N and Longitudes 75° 40' E to 76° 17' E.

The Renai catchment :

Kulhoyan nalla, Ain nalla, Srankut nalla, Borzaz nalla and Malgul nalla are confluencing at various places and forms Zaji nalla. Krash nalla originating from the Fariabad glacier confluence with Dech nalla and flows down. The Zaji nalla and Krash nalla confluence at Fariabad and hereafter called as Renai nalla, flows down to Marwah valley. In the Zaji catchment, the entire left bank area and the area on the upstream of left bank of Malgul nalla in the right bank of Zaji nalla would be under the National Park. In the Krash catchment the entire area on its both sides, above Fariabad would form the National Park. In the left bank of Renai nalla, the forest compartments in the upstream of Dund village would be under National Park. The uncompartmentalized glacier areas and the forest compartments such as 75, 76, 77, 78, 79 and 80 of the Marwah Forest Range are included in the National Park in the Renai catchment.

Kiyar catchment :

The Kiyar nalla originates from Bhillan and Prui glaciers. The right bank tributaries in the National Park area are Padur nalla, Yachkhur nalla, Gumrar, Katlrar, Drayul nalla and Gokul nalla. The left bank tributaries in the National Park area are Maimandoo nalla, Madak nalla, Sipari Rar, Lewar nalla, Wangan nalla and Bhoi rar. The vast stretches of sub-alpine and alpine grass lands are prominent in the catchment. Sarbal and Zim Maidan are the noted examples. The forest compartments such as 24c, 24d, 24e, 24f, 24g, 24h, 24i, 24j, 24k and 24l of Dachhan Range and uncompartmentalized areas beyond 24g and 24h are under the National Park. The first village, Rikinwar in the downstream of Kiyar nalla, will be out of the National Park.

Nanth catchment :

The Nanth nalla originates from the Bramah glacier and flows south-west direction and reaches Dachhan area. The areas in the upstream of Hok rar (left bank of Hok rar in the right bank of Nanth nalla) and upstream of Mirwan rar (right bank of Mirwan rar in the left bank of Nanth nalla) and uncompartmentalized area beyond 29d and 29e are under the National Park i. e. part of compartment 29d beyond the left bank of Hok rar, uncompartmentalized areas beyond 29d and forest compartments 29e and 29f are under National Park. In the National Park area, the major right bank tributaries are Trisandhya nalla and Hok rar. Gurohoi nalla, Chogunchan rar, Kutnar and Mirwan rar are the left bank tributaries in the National Park area. The first villages on the downstream of Nanth Nallah in right and left bank respectively, Prasan and Gugat will be out of the National Park boundary.

Kibber catchment :

The Kibber nalla is also originating from the Bramah glacier. The National Park spreads from the alpine glacier up to 1 km. from the boundary of the Kibber village in the right bank of Kibber nalla. i. e. the part of the compartment 30c (1 kilometer beyond the Kibber village), and the uncompartmentalized area beyond 30c and 30d, forest compartments 30d and 30e of Dachhan range are under the National Park. The village Kibber will be out of the National Park boundary.

Description of the area under National Park :

The forest compartments such as 75, 76, 77, 78, 79 and 80 of Marwah Range and the uncompartmentalized areas beyond compartments 75 and 76 are under the National Park in Marwah Forest Range. The forest compartments such as 24c, 24d, 24e, 24f, 24g, 24h, 24i, 24j, 24k and 24l and uncompartmentalized areas beyond 24g and 24h (Kiyar nalla catchment), part of 29d beyond Hok rar, 29e and 29f and uncompartmentalized areas beyond 29d and 29e (Nanth catchment) part of 30c beyond 1 kilometer from Kibber village, 30d and 30e and uncompartmentalized areas beyond 30c and 30d (Kibber catchment) of Dachhan Forest Range are under the National Park.

Features of the area :

The area of the National Park is contiguous in nature. The tract is situated on the high altitudes i. e. sub-alpine and alpine zone. The altitude range of 2300 m to 6000 m is observed in this tract. This area is traditionally receiving appreciable quantum of snowfall during winter and rainfall during summer. The water flowing through the tract for millions of years had deeply serrated the land mass into valleys and gorges in all possible directions. It resulted in formation of land mass with varying slopes and aspects. The other local factors such as depth of soil, texture of soil, light availability and duration along with other edaphic factors creates the condition suitable for growth of varied plant species over the land. This produces grass lands, bushy vegetation, marshy land, glacial lakes and varied types of forest. In the bank of the nallas one can observe the growth of conifer trees such as bluepine, fir, spruce and Bhojpatra. In the zone just above, the tree line is occupied by bushy vegetation such as Junipers. Above the Junipers, vast stretches of grass lands are prominent. Above the grass lands, the permanent glaciers are the prominent features. Due to the availability of varied vegetation along the altitudinal gradation, this area is highly suitable for the wildlife. Hence it is supporting various forms of fauna over it.

The area is away from the human habitation. The people living in the peripheral area i. e. outside the National Park will never venture into the National Park since it is located on the upstream of their habitation. For meeting up their fuel wood and fodder requirements, they will visit only the places near to their habitation. Hence, the National Park will be free of any human interference.

Traditionally some local migratory graziers from plains of Jammu province visiting these high lands during summer months i. e. between June to August every year along with their livestock. The visiting livestock also form the important natural entity in the eco-system. Because of the varied eco-tones and due to the availability of grazing lands and herbivores the wild animals are largely present in these areas.

Inclusion of the uncompartimentalized glacier area under the National Park will offer greater protection to it. As the water availability in the downstream areas for irrigation and energy needs is largely dependent on health of upstream glaciers, hence the inclusion of them under the National Park is justified.

Physical features :

The area of the National Park is mostly precipitous and rugged comprising of steep slopes and high ridges broken by rocky cliffs and mostly narrow valleys. The altitude of the National Park ranges from 2300 m to 6000 m above M. S. L.

The general rock formation of the National Park falls under the Central Himalayan crystalline group. The geological formation is the result of succession from Precambrian to Triassic. The rocks are composed of mainly granite, gneisses, and schist with occasional marble beds. The soil is mostly alluvial with glacial deposits. The soil cover of the area is shallow with alkaline to natural in reaction.

Drainage :

There are numerous small streams which drain into Renai, Kiyar, Nanth, and Kibber Nallas and all these independently drain into river Marwah that joins river Chandrabhaga at Bhandarkoot and forms the river Chenab.

The National Park is gifted with numerous perennial streams, Nallas, Ponds, Springs and Glaciers as the result of which the water supply is adequate throughout the year. The best known glacier in the area is Baramah Glacier which is about 18 km. long besides the Metwan Glacier.

Climate and Rainfall :

The climate of the National Park confirms to temperate type and depending upon the duration and magnitude of precipitation and temperature four seasons are clearly recognized. These are spring, summer, autumn and winter.

The upper reaches of the National Park is characterized by severe and prolonged winter and short summer season. The climate becomes temperate and milder in the lower areas. Snowfall takes place mainly during December and January and sometimes even in November, February and March. During winter, the whole National Park is covered under snow. In the upper reaches and unexposed aspects, the snow remains deposited for at least nine months which acts as the source of water to the different nallas during dry summer months. Most of the precipitation is received from December to April. The monsoon is often weak and reaches late in the area. The average annual rainfall is about 920 mm. Considerable winter precipitation and moderate rainfall occur during the summer. Severe winter conditions occur partly due to geographic features and partly as a result of the influences of western disturbances.

Winds are mostly light to moderate. The terrain also gives rise to various types of local winds. These become strong when blowing over fields and glaciers. Winds blowing through mountain ranges emerge out as strong currents.

Vegetation :

The area of Kishtwar High Altitude National Park is characterized by marked variation of topography, climate and altitude as the result of which different types of forest vegetation occur in the area especially on northern and eastern aspects. Due to a wide range of elevation, aspects, slopes and moisture regime, the National Park supports a variety of temperate conifer forests. These includes Fir (Abies pindrow), Himalayan Yew (Taxus Wallichiana), Deodar (Cedrus deodara), Blue pine or Kail (Pinus Wallichiana), and Spruce (Picea smithiana). In the alpine regions of the National Park, extensive alpine scrub and meadows, open rocks and glaciers are present. The lower catchment areas of all the four nallas namely Kibar, Nanth, Kiar and Renai support mixed forests.

Forest Types :

The Forests of Kishtwar High Altitude National Park have been categorized and described in the light of Revised Forest Types of India by Champion and Seth (1968) as applicable to the Forests of the tract. They are summarized below :—

MONTANE TEMPERATE FORESTS

Group 12-Himalayan Moist Temperate Forests

1. Moist deodar forest (Cedrus deodara) 12/C1c
2. Western mixed coniferous forest 12/C1d
3. Moist temperate deciduous forest 12/C1e
4. Low level blue pine forest (Pinus Wallichiana) 12/C1f
5. Himalayan temperate pastures 12/D S3

Group 13-Himalayan Dry Temperate Forests

6. West Himalayan high level dry blue pine forest 13/C4
(Pinus Wallichiana)

SUB-ALPINE FORESTS

Group 14-Sub-Alpine Forests

7. Birch/fir forest 14/C1b

ALPINE SCRUB

Group 15-Moist Alpine Scrub

8. Birch I Rhododendron scrub forest 15/C1
9. Alpine pastures 15/C3

These types of forests are described below :—

MONTANE TEMPERTATE FORESTS

The northern montane temperate forests seem to be best classified by the rainfall during the season of vegetative activity which may be taken as roughly the months with mean temperature over 13°C. Three stages are distinguishable two of them mainly coniferous, though broadleaved trees (either evergreen oaks or mixed deciduous species) or often associated with the conifers, only the wettest type being predominantly broadleaved evergreen.

Group 12-Himalayan Moist Temperate Forests :

The characteristic feature of the himalayan moist temperate forest is the extensive development of coniferous forest. These coniferous forest are very similar to those of other parts of the north temperate zone in Europe and America. Practically pure crops are almost frequent than the next ones, the species found been dependant mainly on altitude and aspect.

12/C1c. Moist Deodar Forests (Cedrus deodara) :

Cedrus deodara is the characteristic species of this type and it often occurs as pure but at times mixed with blue pine, little Fir and spruce. It occurs in the altitudinal zone of 1700 m to 2300 m generally but descends to lower levels on cooler Northern aspects and is replaced here by Kail. Natural regeneration of Deodar and Kail is plentiful and is only lacking over ill drained sites, extremely steep slopes and areas carrying dense undergrowth.

The common associates are Pinus Wallichiana, Abies pindrow, Picea smithiana, Quercus ilex, Quercus dilitata, Quercus incana, Rhus succdanea, Eodrela serrate, Prunus padus, Fraxinus floribanda, Acsculun indica, Rhododendron arboreun, Celtis australius, Populus ciliata and Alnusnitida. Under dense canopy of Deodar, the under storey of broadleaved species is often missing and under growth very sparse. But is open crop, dense under storey of broadleaved species like Rhus, Cedrela, Aesculus, Eorylus colurna, Prunus, etc. is found.

12/C1d. Western Mixed Coniferous Forests :

This type refers to the Fir Forests with some spruce and Deodar and Kail formation falling within this type having varying intermixture of evergreen and deciduous broadleaved trees and also glades of broadleaved forests. This type is found between 2400 to 3000 m. Quercus semicarpifolia and Quercus dilatata form upper and lower limits respectively. These forests are dense canopied but lack generally in younger classes. The common associates are Taxus baccata, Quercus semecarpifolia, Acer pictum, Prunus padus, Populus ciliata, Juglans regia, Fraxinus floribunda, Corylus colurna, Aesculus spp. and Salix spp. This type is known for carrying important medicinal flora.

12/Cle. Moist Temperate Deciduous Forests :

This type is found between 1800 to 2700 m met with in 12/C1c, 12/C1d types mostly in shady depressions and along nalla and stream banks, comprising of deciduous broadleaved trees like Aesculus indica, Juglans regia, Acer spp, Prunus padus, Corylus colurna, Celtis australis, Populus ciliata, Salix spp, Ulmus Wallichiana. GOVERNMENT OF JAMMU AND KASHMIR
CIVIL SECRETARIAT—FINANCE DEPARTMENT

Notification

Srinagar, the 22nd July, 2015.

SRO-232.—In exercise of the powers conferred by proviso to section 124 of the Constitution of Jammu and Kashmir, the Governor is pleased to direct that after rule 41 of the Jammu and Kashmir Civil Services (Leave) Rules, 1979, the following shall be added as Rule 41-A, namely :—

“41-A. (1) Subject to the provisions of these rules, a woman employee may be granted child care leave by an authority competent to grant leave for a maximum period of 730 days during her entire service for taking care of her two eldest children whether for rearing or for looking after any of their needs, such as education, sickness and the like.

- (2) For the purpose of sub-rule (1), “Child” means—
 - (a) a child below the age of eighteen years ; or
 - (b) a child below the age of twenty-two years with a minimum disability of forty per cent.
- (3) During the period of child care leave, a woman employee shall be paid leave salary equal to pay drawn immediately before proceeding on leave.
- (4) Child care leave may be combined with leave of any other kind.
- (5) Notwithstanding the requirement of production of medical certificate leave of any kind due and admissible (including Commuted Leave not exceeding sixty days and leave not due) up to a maximum of one year, if applied for, be granted in continuation with child care leave granted under sub-rule (1).
- (6) Child care leave shall not be debited against the leave account.
- (7) Grant of child care leave under these rules shall be subject to the following conditions :—
 - (i) Child care leave cannot be claimed as a matter of right. Under no circumstances can any employee proceed on child care leave without prior proper approval of the leave sanctioning authority ;

- (ii) It shall not be granted for more than three spells in a calendar year ;
- (iii) It shall not ordinarily be granted during the probation period. However, in case of certain extreme situations where the leave sanctioning authority is satisfied about the need of child care leave to the probationer, the leave may be sanctioned provided that the period for which such leave is sanctioned is minimal ;
- (iv) The leave is to be treated like the Earned Leave and sanctioned as such ;
- (v) Sundays and holidays can be prefixed or suffixed to child care leave. Consequently, Sundays, Gazetted holidays or any other holiday(s) notified by the Government falling during the period of leave would also count for child care leave, as in the case of Earned Leave.

These provisions shall take effect from the date of issue of the notification”.
